South Carolina School District Implements Anonymous Hotline

(Littleton, Colorado) August 28, 2008 - Ware Shoals School District 51 has chosen Business Controls, Inc. as the provider for its anonymous reporting solution.

Ware Shoals School District, home to 1,100 students and 160 employees, is located in the upstate of South Carolina. The hotline, called MySafeCampus[®], allows employees the option to report concerns via a secure web intake form or through a toll-free number. Appropriate administration is then notified to log into the case management portion of the system to review and respond.

Fay Sprouse, Superintendent of the district, explains why she chose Business Controls. "MySafeCampus[®] offers another avenue of communication for our employees. Even though all administrators have open door policies, there may be times when an employee is uncomfortable speaking to us about a situation. We want to be proactive instead of reactive for the safety of our students and employees. The 24/7/365 feature, confidentiality, the fast turnaround time of reporting, and the helpful services provided by associates are the features that prompted me to select Business Controls and MySafeCampus[®]."

As part of the service Ware Shoals School District will receive free expert consultation with every report they receive. Business Controls' experts include Forensic Clinicians, Attorneys, Certified Investigators, Security Experts, and Certified Fraud Examiners.
